First Data®
Integrated Token Services

You can easily offer digital wallets — and stay ahead of the innovation curve.

As more mobile wallet options enter the market, mobile payment transactions continue to increase. First Data's Integrated Token Services helps you take advantage of the latest in mobile wallets.

As a wallet provider, you need to rely on tokenization to secure payment transactions. But to successfully implement tokenization, you need ubiquity, scalability, and a good customer experience.

First Data provides turnkey onboarding, provisioning, and token management. You'll have the advantage of modern payment security, complemented with a suite of token services.

First Data®

Integrate with Other Available Services

Provision Plus

Help mitigate your business risk and protect your customers, while quickly approving legitimate customer provisions. Create custom rules to give your business flexibility during the provision process.

One Time Passcode (OTP)

Authenticate your customers during the provisioning process by sending them a random code to validate their identity. Used in tandem with Provision Plus, you can isolate risky versus non-risky mobile wallet provision requests.
